FRENCH DEBT TRUCE IS DECLARED MUNICIPAL HOTEL CONTRACT TO BE LET TODAY

Plans to be Presented to Parliament

Negotiations Break Down As Settlement Was Expected

CAILLAUX LEAVES TODAY

No Predictions Made On Fate Of Proposition Given Caillaux

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Franco-American debt negotiations over the funding of France's $4,200,000,000 war debt broke down today and instead of a final settlement of this six-year-old controversy, a temporary truce was declared.

Joseph Caillaux, the French finance minister, will sail for home tomorrow aboard the liner France, bearing a proposition—but forward by the American commission whereby France shall pay the sum of $40,000,000 annually for the next five years, this sum to be accepted by the American government as "current interest" on the entire debt.

Caillaux accepted the proposal insofar as agreeing to take it back to France and lay it before the French parliament was concerned. For its fate there he made no promises.

AUTO THIEF IS STILL AT LARGE

No trace had been found last night of the thief who stole an automobile belonging to Bruce Franklin, a porter at the Monett Motor company, while it was parked in front of the company building yesterday. Police were also unable to recover the car.

The theft was one of the holdest in Richmond's history. The car was securely locked when parked but the thief boldly drove up in another machine and towed it away before pedestrians and employees of the Monett Motor company who were watching the operation realized what was happening. Finally chase was given but the thief and car disappeared near Chancellor avenue.

Big Explosion Rocks Manila

(By Universal Service)
MANILA, P. I., Oct. 1.—With a roar that was heard for miles throughout the country, an ammunition magazine blew up at Fort McKinley, five miles out of Manila today. The estimated loss is $100,000. Although the explosion was gigantic, all persons in the vicinity of the disaster miraculously escaped without injury.

RESCUE WORK TO CONTINUE FOR SUB CREW

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—"We will keep at the rescue operations until every glimmer of hope is dead," Secretary of the Navy Wilbur said today when informed that every attempt to raise the submarine S-51 off Block Island had failed.

News of today's effort to lift the stern of the sub was the most discouraging yet received by the navy. It indicated that the ship was full of water and too heavy to be moved by the combined efforts of the dericks Monarch and Century.

Back of the engine room, at the stern of the ship is a watertight bulkhead. Secretary Wilbur explained that some of the crew may be imprisoned. Near the bow is another watertight bulkhead. Men may be walled in behind that.

There is only the faintest chance that they are still alive. Until it is known, however, that these compartments are flooded, the rescue work will continue night and day.

By cutting through the engine room hatch, divers may be able to explore the stern of the ship. More bodies doubtless will be located there. The divers will find out whether the last door was closed in time to escape the flood when the sub sank to the ocean bottom.

PINOLE ENACTS PARKING LAW

PINOLE, Oct. 1.—No automobiles will be allowed to park on any section of Main street, between Valley and Quinine avenues, in this city after October 21. At that time the Main street parking law, recently given its final reading at the town meeting, will go into effect. The ordinance reads that violators may be punished by a fine of not to exceed $100 or imprisonment not to exceed three months or both.

ANNUAL MEET OF C. E. OPENS AT MARTINEZ TODAY

The thirty-fifth annual convention of the Contra Costa Christian Endeavor Society will open this evening at the Congregational church in Martinez with over 100 delegates from all sections of the county in attendance. The convocation will last three days.

Tonight's session will be devoted to the intermediate department and a rally. General conference is scheduled for Saturday morning, with the afternoon being taken up by the junior department. The annual banquet of the society will be held Saturday afternoon. Sunday's program will include devotional services.

"More Like the Master" has been adopted as the theme of the convention. Talks on this subject will be made by Emmett C. Chapman, state president; Harry B. Allan, state secretary; and Rev. T. A. Boyer, Contra Costa probation officer.

The program for tonight is as follows: Song service, led by V. C. Hammond. Devotional... Mrs. Laura Townsend.

Convention song. Presentation of Intermediate Banner.

"In Service," Marjorie Bengtson. "In Courage To Do Right," Gladys Eastman.

Closing Solo—Mrs. Ralph E. Meredith.

Closing words—Rev. H. B. Thomas.

Annual Dinner Held By Local Church Body

Over 100 members of the Richmond Church Fellowship gathered at the monthly dinner meeting of the organization last evening in the First Presbyterian church parlors.

Ralph Cole, state secretary of boys' work for the Y. M. C. A. and W. T. Helms, city superintendent of schools were the speakers of the evening.

Cole, who has devoted many years to an extensive study of boys' problems, gave a talk on the character building of the boy by the school, the church, the Y. M. C. A. and other influences.

The main issues of the school bond election were brought out in an interesting talk by Superintendent Helms, who told of the ever-increasing need of better school facilities.

Rev. W. W. Grant, pastor of the First Methodist church, told of the excellent work being accomplished at the colored people's church in North Richmond. The various ministers of the city are assisting the church in getting started by delivering sermons each Sunday before the colored congregation. Rev. H. M. Greenlee, pastor of the Community Methodist church, will deliver the sermon next Sunday. Rev. Grant stated.

Dr. W. W. Giberson presided over last night's meeting. The dinner was served by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church.

The next meeting of the Fellowship will be held at St. Edmund's church on Thursday evening, November 5.

GARAGE TO BE RESHINGLED

Navy Flyers Witnesses at Air Inquiry

Old Admirals Are Branded As Reactionary By Flyers

ADVOCATE SEPARATE SERVICE
Disaster Predicted Unless Standard Of Service Is Increased

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Navy flyers, called as witnesses before the Coolidge aircraft inquiry board today, joined their brothers-at-arms of the army air service in sounding an alarm against America's defenseless condition from air attack.

"Unless the navy is immediately equipped with an adequate and efficient air force, the fleet will meet with disaster when the next emergency comes," was the statement of one witness.

Another flyer declared that the "old admirals are reactionary" and are blocking development of aviation for the purpose of keeping the battleship in a predominant position.

AIR CORPS URGED

All of the flyers asserted that certain of separate air corps, such as proposed by General Patrick, is absolutely necessary to preserve morale among the flyers and to give aviation its proper place in the scheme of national defense.

The flyers also told of intense dissatisfaction among the navy airmen, due chiefly to the control by non-flying officers, the long wait for promotion and the restrictive methods adopted by the higher naval officers to suppress aviation development.

GIRL'S DEATH HELD ACCIDENT

No responsibility was placed at a coroner's inquest conducted by County Coroner C. F. Donnelly last night at Martinez into the death of seven-year-old Geraldine Irene Carlson, of Bay Point, who was fatally injured Sunday when struck by an automobile driven by John Koolas of Pittsburg.

The verdict of the jury was as follows: "Death was due to hemorrhage of the arteries contributed to by fractures of the femur bones, when accidentally struck by an automobile driven by John Koolas. No responsibility placed."

FALSE CHARGES DIVORCE CAUSE

Mrs. Louise S. Faris yesterday instituted suit for divorce against Antonio Faris of San Pablo in Martinez. She charged that her husband accused her of intimacy with other men, was continually nagging and otherwise cruel to her. The couple were married in 1917 and separated on last August 30. The plaintiff, through her attorneys Pierce and Carlson, asks custody of a six-year-old daughter and $25 per month for the girl's support as well as half of community property, including an automobile and property valued at $4000.

Special Committee Will Carry on The Work of Chamber

Appointment of a special committee to carry on the affairs of the Chamber of Commerce, following the resignation of Guy Wolf as secretary manager, was consummated at a meeting of directors of the chamber yesterday. It includes E. M. Bull, administrative; P. M. Sanford, financial representative; Fred S. Newsum, publicity representative.

President H. A. Johnston will act with the committee and Mrs. Helen Kingsbury, assistant secretary, in handling the affairs of the chamber during the time between Wolf's departure and the appointment of a new secretary.

The directors of the chamber yesterday adopted a resolution asking the state railroad commission to refuse a permit to the Golden Gate Ferry company to operate a ferry line from Berkeley to San Francisco.

Members of the board expressed their belief that the city should act in protection of its existing automobile ferry traffic to San Francisco. Attorney T. H. De Lap was retained to appear before the commission and ask that no further automobile ferry line in this section of the east bay should be permitted to operate.

President Johnston of the chamber was named by the directors to represent the body at Stockton at the 1926 Scio convention and ask that the 1926 Scio convocation be held in Richmond.

Business School Students to Help Boost The Bonds

Students of the Richmond Commercial school will be dismissed for the day of the bond election, October 6, in order that they may campaign for the school bonds. It was announced yesterday by Mrs. Elizabeth Helms-Campbell, chairman of the school bond campaign committee in the Richmond Business and Professional Women's club.

"PERFECT" YEGG BLOWS SAFE AT MT. DIABLO P.O.

MT. DIABLO, Oct. 1.—Safe crackers perpetrated what officers declared was the "neatest safe job they had ever seen," last night when they blew open the safe of the Diablo post office and escaped with $16 of funds as a reward for their trouble.

The burglars were so clever with their work that not a sound was heard of the explosion of nitro-glycerine used to do the job. The burglary was discovered this morning by Charles Leech, clerk in the store that houses the post office.

According to Deputy Sheriff J. W. Smiley and Detective Constable Bert Read, the heavy outer door of the safe had been left open, necessitating only the blowing open of a heavy sheet inner door. This was accomplished with nitro-glycerine but was done so neatly that the only replacement necessary will be that of the lock. Smiley declared that the job was the work of experts thoroughly familiar with the actions of "soup" the use of diamond drills and the wearing of gloves for not a trace of finger prints could be found.

"A work of art was the term applied to the job by Smiley. He and Joslin believe the thieves were frightened away before they were able to break the strong box, which however, did not contain anything of value. Leech informed the officers that the outer doors of the safe had been left open purposely so that they would not be damaged in case of burglary.

Inquiry about the exclusive Diablo Country club failed to disclose anyone who heard an explosion. Entrance to the office was gained by jimmying a window.

That the thieves were not connected with the letter thief, who has raided boxes in thirteen post offices in this section of the state in the last few weeks is shown by the difference in the class of their work, according to officials.

Slot Machines Are Outlawed By A. B. Tinning

MARTINEZ, Oct. 1.—Of or after today owners of all public places in Contra Costa county displaying or operating slot machines or punch boards will be arrested and prosecuted, according to a warning issued today by District Attorney A. B. Tinning.

The district attorney launched his campaign against violators of the state gaming laws upon receipt of information that numerous public houses in the county are either operating or displaying the machines or boards. Since the last cleanup the gambling devices have been brought into operation, the owners evidently believing that the vigilance has been relaxed.

Addition to Staff Of Credit Bureau

Additional business and increased membership has necessitated an increase in the staff of the Richmond Credit Rating Bureau, according to Miss Marie Macdonald Jensen, secretary of the bureau. Miss Luella Mitchell was added to the staff yesterday.

Lessee Is to Confer With Hotel Board

Alternate Bids Will Be Studied Before Final Decision

C. B. HAMILTON TO ATTEND

Hotel Structure Will Be Under Way Within Short Time

Contracts for the construction of the Richmond Municipal hotel at Tenth and Nevins streets will be let this morning at a meeting to be held in the office of the Chamber of Commerce, if an agreement can be reached on the alternate bids.

Charles B. Hamilton, lessee of the new hotel is to meet with the directors of the Hotel company and James W. Plachek, architect, this morning, according to H. A. Johnston, president of the Chamber of Commerce and one of the directors of the Hotel company. An attempt will be made at this meeting to iron out the difference between the lowest bid and the amount which has been set aside for the construction of the building.

$150,000 has been appropriated for the construction of the hotel and the lowest bid opened at the meeting on Wednesday was that of Barrett and Hill for $153,900.

Alternate bids have been submitted which will put the cost within the amount allowed. These alternate bids include among other things alternate concrete facing or brick facing, a change in the elevator, steel and concrete construction with solid walls or wood studding with metal lath.

All of the bids are to be gone over carefully and it is expected that some agreement will be reached today. Work will start upon the new structure at once.

Ground breaking exercises are to be held by the Chamber of Commerce with Harry M. Toy, chairman of the State Highway Commission, as the principal speaker in the near future. Immediately upon the conclusion of the ceremony work will be started.

CONSTITUTION IS ADOPTED BY G.O.P. WOMEN

A constitution was adopted and the Republican policies were discussed at a meeting held by members of the local unit of the Republican Women's Federation last night in the chamber of commerce auditorium in the Syndicate building.

Mrs. Frances Madock, president of the Northern California division of Republican party, was present and outlined the purpose of the women's units, as well as explaining the methods of voting and carrying on the administration of the government.

Mrs. S. S. Ripley, who was recently appointed permanent chairman for the local unit, presided over the meeting.

Organization of the unit will be perfected at a meeting planned for next Thursday evening.

TODAY'S DISASTER

Seldom indeed does the editorial page "scoop" the news department. This is an exception. Though the front page headlines will tell you nothing about it, you should know that your country yesterday sustained a tremendous disaster.

Property valued at $1,466,774.44 was wiped out and forty-one persons lost their lives by fire. The death-dealing destruction proceeded continuously throughout the twenty-four hours. Every hour $61,115.60—every minute $1,018.59—every second $16.97, was wiped out.

The fact that a similar catastrophe occurred yesterday, and another one will occur tomorrow, and another one on each of the 365 days of the year, does not make the event less disastrous. Yet that is what happens. This is just another way of stating what the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the highest authority on the subject in the country, tells us: that the annual fire-loss throughout the nation is $535,372,782.

More than half a billion dollars annually! Just $16.97 a second, day and night! An average of 15,000 lives lost every year! This is our economic waste through fires.

In 1903 the fire-loss was $145,302,155. In 1913 it was $203,763,550. In 1923, the last year for which complete authentic figures are available, it was $535,372,782. It has increased 269 per cent in twenty years.

According to the same high authority, the annual fire-loss in American dwellings alone averages $65,000,000. This represents 135,035 fires; which means that 369 fires occur in homes every twenty-four hours. One occurs every four minutes, day and night, somewhere in the United States. There is a farm-building fire every seven minutes.

The Literary Digest recently quoted a statement that "the wastage by fire for the two years, 1922 and 1923, would more than meet the ordinary expenditures of the government for any years before the war and would more than cover half the budget for 1925."

This tremendous fire-loss is a national waste. A national waste is a national problem. It is to focus attention on this problem that October 4-10 week is being observed throughout the country as National Fire Prevention Week.

The extremely highbrow critics would be more effective if they wrote so that the artists could understand them without taking too much time from the job of creating things.

American tourists, according to Canadian statisticians, or just mere computers, will spend this summer in Canada the tidy sum of $150,000,000. Another sign that we are on the rocks, eh?

Civilization has much to answer for and no questions asked.

The Newest Version of the Short Skirt Has an Uneven Hemline.

FASHION had made skirts just about as short as possible, and there was no discernible inclination on the part of the women to wear them long again. So by way of variety fashion made skirts uneven, shorter in front than in back, longer on one side than on the other, hanging down in long points at either side or in deep scallops all round about. The effect is interesting. Moreover, one never can tell just how long or how short one of these skirts really is, and it is possible to wear a skirt that is very, very short indeed—in places—when in other places it is rather long.

There are many skirts longer in the back than in the front. The skirt in the sketch is of this type. A short straight underslip of boys de rose satin is worn with a tunic of gold and boys de rose lame that flares out like a calla lily, hanging longer in the back than in front. Much of the reverse side shows at the back—forming an interesting background for daintily stockinged ankles. Another frock of something of the same hemline shows a straight short, tight sheath of satin with a curiously shaped applied circular flounce that goes up in front and hangs down in a point well below the edge of the frock itself in back. Brandt has made a little frock of black chiffon trimmed with gold lace. The short full skirt hangs longer in the back than in the front—and the gold lace forms a short little apron effect at the front—coming only a little below the knees.

In remodeling last year's evening frocks it would be well enough to bear in mind this matter of the uneven hemline. The effect may be gained merely by the application of an uneven flounce of lace or by the application of a border on the skirt in contrasting material—and of course the uneven hemline gives the frock an entirely different aspect.

SOME TEMPTING SWEETS

Hickory Nut Macaroons
BEAT one egg until light, add one cup of sugar, beat well together, then add two tablespoons of flour, and one cup meats, chopped fine. Grease tins, dust with flour; drop the macaroons by teaspoonfuls on them and bake about twenty minutes in a moderate oven.

Mexican Kisses

Put into a saucepan two cups of brown sugar and a half cup of milk and cook gently until a little dropped in cold water will ball if rubbed between the fingers. It will take ten minutes or a little less to reach this stage. Stir constantly while boiling, and it scorches easily. Add a heaping tablespoon butter, and as soon as melted remove from the fire and beat steadily until the mixture looks creamy and slightly granulated. Stir in at once a pound of English walnuts, broken (not chopped) into bits. Beat hard and turn into buttered tins to harden.

Sugared Almonds

Blanch a cup of almonds, dry them thoroughly. Boil a cup of sugar and a quarter of a cup of water till it "hairs," then throw in the almonds; let them fry as it were, in this syrup, stirring occasionally. They will turn a faint yellow brown before the sugar changes color; do not wait an instant once this change of color begins, or they will lose flavor; remove them from the fire and stir them until the syrup has turned back to sugar and clings irregularly to the nuts.

Where It Started

SPINACH

The cultivation of spinach began about 1556. The first known mention of spinach is in Turner's "Herb-lal," in which he describes it as "An herb lately found and not much in use." The name comes from the Spanish Hispanach, meaning "The Spanish Plant."

SUBWAYS

Underground travel, for municipal purposes was not successfully inaugurated until 1904. The first successful subway was opened in that city, in New York City. This was the first great step in advance in city transportation since 1878, when elevated roads had been successfully tried.

Buttered Beets: Cook beets. When tender remove outer skin by rubbing it off with the fingers under running water. Slice, add butter, oil or drippings, and salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Mannering and three young friends have been taken to the police station, their car having crashed into another, mortally injuring a woman, John Mannering, District Attorney, Bob's father, is summoned, and his mother also comes to the station. Mrs. Mannering urges her husband to let their boy go home, but the official, torn between duty and love for his son, refuses. Bob, he says, must stand trial for manslaughter and cannot be released on bail.

CHAPTER VI—Continued

In the weary watches of those morning hours John had loved Bob, loved him perhaps more than he had ever loved him before. But in his dispassionate mind love could never alter facts; affection vary the conclusions of logic. Upon the evidence elicited by the authorities his son appeared to be guilty of an offense against the laws of the state for which a punishment was provided. Very well, Bob must suffer it. That it was his son, that it had become his duty to brand as a felon blood of his blood, was an unfortunate circumstance, having nothing whatever to do with the issue. He might grieve, it might rend his heart strings in twain, but even as he had prosecuted other men with never the slightest malice, so he must appear against his own son. This did the matter resolve itself in the cold logic of John's mind.

But regardless of the certainty and sureness with which he arrived at this decision, it had not been easy. Now as he raised his head his face was haggard and worn, and as he listened to the monotonous tread of light feet as they pillow was sobbing as though her heart would break. Bob's birthday! How she had looked forward to it! How hard had her unaccustomed fingers labored upon that crocheted bag! How much affection had she bound up with each stitch! With what a wealth of joyous anticipation had she discounted his reception of the gift, with what thrills of expectation awaited his birthday party! And all for what? To lie there in wide-eyed wakefulness and think of Diane Bledsoe. She it was who was to blame for it all. She had enticed Bob away. Deliberately led him into trouble. Of this Marjorie was sure. And believing it, she lay there weeping, casting up her accounts against the other until he was quite certain in her own mind that were real justice done Diane, rather than Bob, would be in prison, and for a life term, so she could never again inveigle unsuspecting youths into ways they should not go. Yet, certain that no such righteousness would prevail, she grew very miserable indeed, and hated Diane with a mighty hatred for so gentle a soul, until there was not a dry spot on all her pillow.

And the moonbeams searched out Bob, too, that night and found him wakeful. Huddled up on the cot in his cell, his head was buried in his hands. Even as his figure was bathed in the soft moonlight, he looked up. And in his eyes was that bewildered expression, the hurt look of a child who is being punished and does not understand why.

A wakeful night, a wakeful night indeed, for those whose hearts were bound up in Bob Mannering's welfare. And finally wearied by her unending march up and down the room, Eileen stopped, but not to go to bed. Slowly descending the stairs, she entered the living room.

Soft as was her step John heard her and hurried forward to support her faltering form.

"Eileen," he cried, "you must go to bed, dear!"

She shook her head. "You must try and get some sleep, dear."

"Sleep?" she repeated piteously. "As if I could close my eyes for an instant with Bob in that horrible place!"

"I know, dear," he agreed compassionately, "but you must get your rest to keep up your strength. If you are not careful you will be sick."

She gazed at him, indifference displayed in every line of her face.

"What does it matter, John? Without Bob—without my baby—nothing matters. I might as well die."

"But Eileen, you must not give up, darling," he pleaded, his anxiety plain.

"I won't give up," she reassured him. "But John, when I think how happy we have been, how wonderful, how happy we were this very day, and then remember how this thing, this dreadful thing, has blotted it all out life does not seem very worth while."

He moved as if to urge her back to her room.

"Rest, dear, rest is what you need above everything else. You want to conserve your strength—build it up if possible. Nothing is to be gained by your staying up this way."

She drew back from him. "But I can't rest, John, I tell you. I feel as if I ought to be doing something to help Bob."

"There is nothing you can do for him, dear," he said gently.

She faced him, and her tones were piteous.

"But you, John. Surely there is something you can do?"

He stood there gazing down at her, and very miserably he looked. Then he slowly shook his head.

There was open disbelief in her look.

"With all your knowledge of law, John—all your experience—can't you think of something?"

Again he slowly shook his head. "And I've heard it said over and over again that you have one of the keenest legal minds in this state."

Now he made no response whatever.

"That you will fight to the last ditch for a client, John."

Still he was silent.

She regarded him wonderingly, as if unable to understand his attitude of silence, his failure to catch her meaning.

NEW PAYROLLS

Depend Upon School Bonds!

New factories are built where there are good schools for the children of employees.

Overcrowded schools make a bad impression on prospective industries and have driven factories out of good towns.

Richmond wants more factories, and she must make every effort to attract them.

Good schools are a powerful selling argument.

We have about 5,000 students in our schools meant to house less than 4,000 students.

This is a dangerous situation today.

Next year we shall have at least 500 more new students in our schools.

WHERE WILL WE PUT THEM!

But fine schools for the children are the best possible bid for new population --- the best investment and advertisement for any community.

The hope and salvation of America is the public school --- without our great system of free schools we could not have assimilated the thousands and millions of immigrants who have come here.

Most immigrants have come here largely because of free schools which spell OPPORTUNITY.

Our civic pride --- our hope for the future of Richmond --- our desire to do everything possible to make this community grow ---

Mrs. Reifschneider H. T. Gill Are Wed

Mrs. Alyce June Reifschneider, former local resident and American Legion Auxiliary worker, became the bride of Harold Thompson Gill, also of San Francisco, at a ceremony performed by Rev. J. E. Wall, pastor of the San Jose Methodist church, on August 27. This was revealed yesterday by a record of the marriage on file in the Santa Clara county recorder's office.

The bride, who has made her home in San Francisco for the past several years, is a past president of Richmond-Auxiliary of the American Legion, and last year was a delegate to the national convention of the American Legion Auxiliary.

With her, Mrs. Ora Merle Vanoni, of San Jose, today brought suit for divorce in Superior court here against John Mark Vanoni, of El Cerrito, on a charge of venue. The plaintiff asks the custody of two children.

"Big Time" Talent Procured for Big R. U. H. S. Circus

Excitement is at a high pitch at the Richmond Union high school over the announcement that the renowned Harbord, Daley and Ringless circus, famous from Pinole to Alameda is to appear on the night of October 30 in the school gymnasium in connection with the carnival to raise funds for athletic equipment. Early this week the managers of this gigantic tent show passed through this city and upon hearing of the carnival offered their services to the commissioners for the night. Only after great negotiations was the show obtained.

The size of the circus prevents the whole seven rings to appear but a large one-ring performance will be given. Wild men from Winhaven, a famous band from Stege, a mysterious gawk, the only one ever found, Hula girls from Pinole and numerous other famous members of this troupe of 1035 people and apes, not counting the monkeys are to be seen.

One of the features will be See Siwell the extensively known South African soloist who will demonstrate the most improved methods of training snakes. Also the great circus trainer Arual, known far and wide between San Pablo and Point Richmond will be on hand.

Announcement has been made that the author of Beard's new history of the United States will send a representative to chronicle the doings of the day for his book. Hundreds of residents of the city besides the students of the school will be taken care of on this occasion—one of the biggest ever attempted in Richmond. Everyone will be insured against injuries sustained from the animals and apes, not counting no responsibility for loss of life.

Revival Meetings Continue At The First Baptist

With testimonials being given by practically every one of the 200 persons present, Rev. Gideon Higginbotham last night conducted revival services at the First Baptist church on Tenth street.

Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. M. H. Greenlee and Guy Smith. They were accompanied by Mrs. R. H. Kinney at the piano.

Announcement was made that cottage prayer meetings will be held at 9:30 o'clock this morning at the homes of Mrs. Beckman at 332 First street, and Mrs. T. Woods at 903 Pennsylvania avenue. A special prayer meeting will be held this evening in the rear of the church, starting at 7:30 p. m.

A mass meeting will be conducted by Rev. Higginbotham on Sunday afternoon in the Lincoln auditorium. Rev. Higginbotham's subject will be "Fighting Devils or One Hundred Per Cent Americans." All men and women of the city are invited to attend the meeting.

This evening at the First Baptist church Rev. Higginbotham will speak on "The Three Greatest Evils of the Church—Moving Pictures, Dancing and Card Playing."

MYERS, MINOR LEAGUE STAR WITH NEW ORLEANS, GETS INTO WORLD SERIES

Buddy Myers, sensational shortstop with the New Orleans club, not only has been added to the roster of the Washington club, but he will come in for a share of the Senators' World Series money. This young rookie has been included in the list of Washington players eligible to participate in the championship games. He will probably be put in the lineup in case of injury to Peckinpaugh, Harris or Bluege.

Rebekahs Give Banquet, Dance After Session

Dancing and a banquet followed the meeting of the Richmond Rebekah lodge last night in Richmond hall. Besides the members who were present, a number of friends went to the hall and enjoyed a pleasant evening. Mrs. Billie Kitchen, Noble Grand presided over the business session during which it was planned to give a whist party in the new Odd Fellows hall on Tenth street on October 31. Plans were also entered in a tentative way for participation in the dedication of the new hall on October 24.

In charge of last night's activities was the following committee: Violet Stalemyer, Agnes Miller, Alice Nichols, Elizabeth Manning, Oily McGrath, Rose Moore, Luella Mitchell, Cora Rogers, Ida Silva, Elizabeth Smith, Corrine Stevens and Bessie Strite.

DO MIRACLES EVER HAPPEN

The slogan "efficiency" has been so bruited about that wouldn't it come as a surprise to find one's air supply meaning good old fashioned ozone, measured by a "ficiency" bound and then shut off completely, like a faucet, when you had consumed your quota for the day.

But to actually be raised from the obscurity of clerk to the grandeur of General Managership, by an efficiency expert, seems like a miracle. Perhaps, one feels, their discerning eye can see merit and ability where others see only mediocrity, but be that as it may, Simon Haldane, unimportant and ignorant in the Faulkner Steel Product company, is recognized by the efficiency expert who reorganizes the offices and promoted to the rank of executive.

This amazing incident is only one of the many interesting episodes that make "The Narrow Street," the Warner Bros. production that is being shown at the "Family Night" program of Wesley Methodist church this evening, as exciting as a world war.

Golett Records Disappear From Company Office

With witnesses testifying that books and records have disappeared from the offices of the Golett Oil company the trial of Edwin Reeves, Mrs. Peggy Reeves, C. E. Peacock and Franklin P. Davis, charged with conspiracy to commit grand larceny, continued yesterday in Superior Judge Fred V. Wolf's court in Oakland.

Police Inspector Robert Tracy, who was on the stand most of the day, told how he had visited the office of the defendants and watched them make out a list of investors from books and records in the office. He testified that after the arrests were made a search of the office failed to reveal any of these records or books.

That James Gough, alleged head of the oil merger scheme, and Edwin V. Reeves, one of the four defendants now on trial, were planning the purchase of a distillery in Mexico with profits from the oil fraud, was claimed by the prosecution at yesterday's session.

When Gough was arrested he stated that he and Reeves were negotiating for a distillery in Mexico, and planned to run rum across the border into the United States.

Denial that he knew the Golett Oil merger was a swindle or was interested in the Mexican distillery deal were made by Reeves yesterday. The defense is being handled by Attorneys Wilbur S. Pierce and T. M. Carlson of Richmond.

Kidneys need flushing, just as the bowels do.

Don't think that back pains mean serious kidney trouble. Or scant, highly-colored urine. Or frequent urination.

Try flushing the kidneys. Do what you would do if the bowels were clogged. Relieve them.

The pity is that people don't realize that the kidneys and bowels both eliminate wastes and poisons. And both become clogged. They relieve the bowels, but they let the kidneys go.

Flush the kidneys—relieve them. Do this by drinking plenty of water. Drink the first glass before breakfast. Add a little Jad Salts. That makes a tart pleasant, effervescent drink.

Watch the quick results. In one hour poisons are eliminated. The clogging is relieved. Conditions are entirely changed.

Jad Salts is made from the acids of lemon and grape juice combined with lithia. They are made to relieve the kidneys in a quick efficient way.

Try them once. Then whenever you feel that the kidneys need flushing, you will know the way to quick relief. And a better way has never yet been found.
